Lamoreaux Landing Wine Cellars, founded by Mark S. Mayport, first opened its doors to the public in 1993. Set amidst a rolling landscape designed with a breathtaking view of Seneca Lake, it is an exciting vineyard planted on lands recognized as part of the 1976 parcel for grape vines. Separating red from white grape vines, arched trellises, and proximity to the top of Seneca Lake, display important roles in the production of fine wines and thereby fine wine. The other crucial ingredient in the Lamoreaux Landing future wine is the love of people who help make it. At Lamoreaux Landing Wine Cellars, the emphasis is on making great wine, from the vineyard to the bottle, through the entire winemaking process. The winery produces a wide range of wines, including Chardonnay, Riesling, Pinot Noir, and various blends. The wines are designed to be enjoyed now, but also to age gracefully over time.